necessary to again caution readers that passengers in the Pullman. no ballot counts unless it bears the name of a candidate for King or Queen, and ballots bearing the names of candidates for both King and Queen are thrown out. "It is amazing , the vast number of votes cast for King and Queen in The Evening World election," said Francis P. Gallagher, Coney Island's veteran contractor and builder, member of the Carnival Committee every year since the inception of the scheme in 1903. This immense vote shows how strong a hold our Mardi Gras has on the people. It shows that the honor of reigning over this play-kingdom is more and more appreciated each year. And The Evening World has done much to make

Eight aspirants for the crown as King of the Isle of Joy have passed the 10,000 mark in the canvass, and there are forty-odd with 1,000 votes or more The feature in to-day's vote is the rise of Monopole Jack Graney, thirtyseventh, to fourth place in the race for King, his friends and campaigners, with headquarters at the Hotel Metropole having accumulated a tremendous hig bunch of ballots, sent them all in in a volley, along with a letter which appounces with as much assurance as Katz and "Sunnybreek" Levy that matoes. it's going to be "King Jack," as sure Ripe tomatoes are almost indispen- ably through four enlistment periods
